

Looking for a Change?

At Rock Out Youth Foundation we seek to reconnect with you (our youth); to help provide you with direction.

We must reconnect if we are to survive as a society; for a society is only as strong as the connections between the generations!

The strength of any society is based upon the strength of the ties between the generation gaps. We at Rock Out Youth Foundation seek to narrow and eventually eliminate the gaps that exist. In order for our current society to regain strength, we must re-establish healthy social connections.

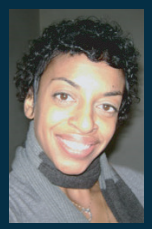

We can not afford to hesitate for another moment. Whether you are older or younger, just look at your own life and count how many meaningful connections you have with people outside your own generation and you will see that our society must reconnect.

Through our own example we desire to equip you to become leaders in your own generation; to speak out and be heard with a positive voice.

Our Mission Statement

- To reconnect with the you (our youth)
- To help provide you with direction
- To facilitate in your social development
- To link up with the surrounding communities & schools

"This youth foundation was first conceived after observing our youth descending into negative behavior. As a single mother, I was compelled to establish a refuge for the younger generation."
